

THREAT ASSESSOR

ABOUT THE COURSE

This course is designed for all personnel who are responsible for threat assessment, providing an understanding of the principles of the Positive Target Identification (PTI) system. Delegates will also learn how to apply the Threat Report Form to the system, and the consequences of receiving a threat in any format.

This course will guide you through the DfT PTI method of assessing whether a threat is credible or otherwise. This tried and trusted system can help you and your team, whatever area of the industry you fit into.

As part of our constant commitment to upgrading and updating our teaching methods, Redline has added a 'decision making cycle' module to the existing DfT training package syllabus.

This will assist your threat assessors in making an auditable decision, identifying the threat, which, when applied to a real life situation, could make a significant difference.
